

Inverclyde Amateur Swimmers become Coaches

June 2007

This weekend 6 teenagers from Inverclyde Amateur swimming club achieved their first step in becoming fully fledged swimming coaches all have been working towards this award for some time with the swimming Club and have now successfully passed their Amateur Swimming Association level One coaches badges. The six swimmers Claire Hemphill, Michaela Montgomery, Gillian Love, Kieran Begley, Ryan McGhee and Jon Campbell can now pass on the skills they have learnt to the younger members of the club and help others to further success in competitions. The club would also like to express thanks to those parents and children that assisted the 6 in achieve this awards and a special thanks to John Bruce Port Glasgow pool manager for his support and use of the facilities.
